

Our method serves as a non-realistic modeling tool where one can incorporate many artistic controls to create stylized geometries. We propose a new form of human-machine interaction. the main contributions of this paper are as follows. For instance were able to generate aesthetic full-stack painting.